DID YOU KNOW?

The first tow truck was invented nearly 100 years ago by Ernest Holmes, Sr., a garage worker in Tennessee who attempted to pull a car out of a creek with the help of blocks, ropes and six strong men. Today, towing operators have more options, relying on everything from wreckers and rollbacks to flatbeds and pickups with a fifth-wheel hitch to get the job done. Get great coverage for all your towing vehicles—and save money, too—with Progressive Commercial.
